Give Thanks at Church Rites

Thousands To Attend Services

Congregations Join In City

By NITA BRANSON
(N-J Church Editor)

Daily cares and anxieties will be put aside tonight and tomorrow morning as thousands of Mansfield church worshippers join in services of praise and thanksgiving for the blessings of an American land of freedom.

Union services will be held at 7:30 p. m. today at the First Methodist church where the First United Presbyterian, First Christian, First Congregational and the St. John's Evangelical congregations will join in worship. Rev. John C. Melchert of the St. John's church will bring the Thanksgiving message.

Members of the St. Luke's Lutheran and the St. Paul Lutheran churches will join in services at the latter church at 7:30 p. m. Dr. Herbert S. Garnes will speak and Rev. John G. Gensel of the St. Paul Lutheran will assist in the liturgy.

The Central Methodist, St. Matthew's Lutheran and the Park Avenue Baptist churches will join in worship at the Central Methodist church where Dr. W. M. Taylor of the Park Avenue Baptist church, will speak.

At 11 a. m. tomorrow members of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, will meet at their church, Marion avenue and Wood street, for annual Thanksgiving services.

READS PROCLAMATION

William McKenzie, first reader, will present the President's proclamation and will read correlative passages from "Science and Health" while Mrs. Minnie Cox, second reader, reads passages from the Bible. A lesson-sermon, specially prepared for the service, entitled "Thanksgiving" will be a part of the worship.

Miss Beverly Wentz will sing Curran's "Blessing" as a solo. The congregation will join in singing three hymns, "In Mercy, in Goodness, How Great is Our King," "He that Goeth Forth with Weeping" and "We Thank Thee and We Bless Thee, O Father of Us all."

Individual services will be held tonight at the First Lutheran church, where Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell will preach; at the Main Street Evangelical, where Rev. Willard J. Shawk will talk at First Evangelical UB with Rev. V. C. Stamets preaching and at the Mayflower Congregational church, where Rev. Arthur F. Lindbeck will present the sermon.

Tomorrow morning Rev. Samuel U. J. Peard will preside at 10:30 a. m. services at the Grace Episcopal church and Rev. James E. Davey will preach at the Grace Gospel church at 10 a. m.

At the Lincoln Heights Church of the Brethren, Rev. I. E. Oberholtzer will preach at 7:30 p. m. today.

Says Breen Story True

HAYWARD, WIS. — (UP) — District Attorney Winslow Davis said today he was convinced that no publicity hoax was intended or perpetrated in connection with the disappearance of former child singer Bobby Breen on a flight into the north woods.

Davis questioned Breen for two hours last night and then told newsmen he believed the affair resulted "from an unfortunate set of circumstances.

Breen's agent, Ernie Roth, reported him missing Sunday with his pilot when he failed to arrive here on a flight north for a deer-hunting trip. The report set off a widespread search that included more than a score of planes and hundreds of woodsmen and deputies.

He finally was located Monday evening at a Glidden, Wis., resort where he had registered under an assumed name "to avoid publicity." He and his pilot said their plane was forced down there Sunday night.

Biggest N-J To Be Issued Thursday

The News-Journal you find on your doorstep tomorrow will be the largest regular edition of any newspaper ever published in Mansfield.

The 60-page paper will be issued early to permit employes to spend the day with their families. Delivery to homes will be made before noon.

The paper will contain Christmas advertising of Mansfield's merchants in addition to many Thanksgiving and pre-Christmas stories.

Crestline Man Held In FBI Probe

3 Accused In Wartime Prison Goods Sales

A Crestline man and two New Yorkers were arrested yesterday by FBI agents after being indicted by a Detroit federal grand jury last Friday for illegal disposition of $39,000 worth of convict-made goods from the Michigan state prison at Jackson, Mich.

J. Fred Munnell, 53, who has resided in Crestline for less than a year, was lodged overnight in the Mansfield jail. He was taken to Cleveland today for a hearing this afternoon before he is returned to Detroit, it was reported by Ray J. Abbaticchio jr., special agent in charge of the Cleveland FBI office.

The FBI arrests followed the issuance of a warrant charging interstate transportation of convict-made goods to private individuals or firms. Munnell was wartime manager of prison industries at Jackson.

The others held are Alfred S. Goldstein, 50, civilian inspector for Army service forces, and his brother, Sol Goldstein, 55, a textile and clothing merchant. Both were arrested in New York.

HELD U. S. CONTRACTS

Abbaticchio said during recent war years the Michigan prison was engaged in the production of war textiles and garments, holding government contracts. The FBI investigation showed $39,000 worth of convict-made goods were sold to Alfred Goldstein by Munnell. The investigation indicated Goldstein took orders for goods and placed the orders with Munnell, who ordered the shipments made.

The investigations also reflect that Alfred Goldstein sent samples of goods available to him from prison industries to his brother, Sol, in New York City, who took orders for quantities of merchandise. He relayed the orders to Alfred, who advised Munnell, who then allegedly caused subordinate employes at the prison to ship the goods.

After shipments were delivered Alfred Goldstein paid Munnell for the order, which then was credited to Goldstein's account with the Michigan State Industries.

Munnell was employed by the Michigan penal system from 1919 to 1948. He is married and has one son.

Well-Named Kitten Goes For a Spin

OKLAHOMA CITY—(AP)—When they named Double Trouble, the yellow kitten, they named her right. She went for a spin yesterday—in an automatic home washing machine. It was only a dry run, but it was almost enough for Double Trouble.

Double Trouble was almost done in by her best friends—3-year-old Christopher Jordan. Young Chris reckoned it was time for the kitten to have a bath. Into the machine went Double Trouble, on went the juice, and the washer went round and round.

About three minutes later an agonized Chris burst into his mother's kitchen. "The cat can't come up! . . . The cat can't get out of the machine!" he burbled.

Poor Double Trouble. She didn't know up from down. But Chris did. ". . . An awful spanking!" said Mrs. Jordan.

King Faces Loss of Leg

British Ruler Carries On

LONDON—(INS)—King George VI, suffering from an acute circulation difficulty in his legs, carried on his official duties today while the sorrowing British commonwealth flooded Buckingham palace with messages of sympathy.

The king busily occupied himself with state papers, departing from his normal routine only to have his legs massaged. The royal family, their rejoicing over the birth of Princess Elizabeth's son tempered by the announcement of the king's ailment, remained outwardly calm.

Speculation over the exact nature of the king's illness continued, with some doctors suggesting that he faces possible amputation of one or both legs.

But the statement of one palace official that another bulletin will probably be issued in a week, giving more details of the illness, led to the belief that it has not yet been fully diagnosed.

The original announcement, signed by five doctors said that the king suffers from an obstruction to normal circulation of blood in the arteries of his legs. He has been confined to the palace, and one report is that for several months he has received electrical massage treatment for an hour a day.

Anything Can Happen!

Grid Show Offers Rib-Ticklers, Too

Most anything can happen these days at an entertainment spectacle.

A live pig may go squealing across the floor.

A chicken may fly from out of nowhere and make a nest in a woman's hat.

A big husky fellow may try to make like a hula dancer.

If all of this happened in one show it might be "Hellzapoppin." It could be "Take It or Leave It." Then again it might be the 13th annual News-Journal football banquet next Monday at the Richland Recreation center.

Now banquet entertainment officials are not giving out with any information about the surprises in store for the Senior and Madison high school players and fans. But they do admit that there will be plenty of new comedy wrinkles at the fete.

However, the pig, chicken and hula dancer gimmicks may have a bit of plausibility, they say.

One thing is sure. The 1948 edition of football honor show will possibly be the best of the long series. K. L. "Tug" Wilson, the principal speaker, is the athletic power behind the Western conference, and Dick Kroesen, the toastmaster, can spin a tale with the best.

Officials are dickering with the SPEBSQSA—Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America (whew)—for a bit of barber shop singing.

For the football followers of the two schools, there are still some tickets available. Deadline for purchasing ducats to the dinner and entertainment has been set for 5 p. m. Friday at the News-Journal information desk.

Stores Set Night Hours

Mansfield stores will begin their holiday shopping hours next Monday, remaining open until 9 p. m., that day, the Retail Merchants association announced today.

Most stores will be open to 9 Monday nights, Nov. 30, Dec. 6, 13, and 20 and the same hour Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of Christmas week.

The board of trustees of the Retail Merchants group recommended that stores close at 5:30 p. m., Christmas eve to give employes the evening at home.

Evening store hours were recommended by the retailers for the convenience of shoppers who are unable to get away from their jobs for long periods during the day.

IT'S LEGAL, GIRLS!

1100 At Jaycee Spectacle

Chapman Named First Honor Citizen

Ralph B. Chapman, associate general secretary of the YMCA, became Mansfield's first "Honor Citizen" of the month at the monthly presentation of the stage show, "The Best Is Yet to Come," sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce at Senior high school last night.

Nearly 1,100 persons at the two shows saw Chapman receive a jeweled pin from Robert Little, master of ceremonies. Chapman was introduced by Robert Murphy, president of the sponsoring group.

Chapman came to Mansfield in 1915 and has been active in "Y" work here since then.

He was chosen by a committee made up of representatives of various civic organizations. The committee chooses a Mansfielder who, they believe, has exemplified the Golden Rule in his life. A new Honor Citizen will be presented at each monthly show.

The stage show, featuring Johnny Dee and his "New Englanders" had one local act in addition to the regular acts in the show. Miss Dolly Beer presented an acrobatic dance.

Murphy termed last night's show a financial success.

An aerial spotlight lighted up the sky outside the school prior to the shows.

Last night's audiences were asked to submit suggestions for civic projects for which the Junior Chamber of Commerce will use any profits from the shows.

The final decision will be made by the Jaycees, but if enough suggestions are received at the monthly shows, those most often repeated will be selected and voted on by audiences at next month's show.

Execution Sentences Approved

Gen. MacArthur Backs Tribunal

TOKYO —(AP)— General Douglas MacArthur today denied clemency for Japan's 25 top war criminals and ordered the execution of Hideki Tojo and six others who dreamed of conquest but lost an empire.

As sole reviewing officer, he declined to use his power to lighten any of the sentences determined by the international military tribunal—seven to die on the gallows; 16 to spend the rest of their lives in prison, two to lesser prison terms.

The supreme commander called his task "utterly repugnant" to him. He closed his review of the war guilt case with a plea to people of all creeds in Japan to pray on execution day—yet to be made public—to help the world keep the peace, "lest the human race perish."

Attorneys for five defendants planned to appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States which has never yet intervened in international war crimes cases.

MacArthur, in his statement, said he saw no reason for him to intervene. Whether the prisoners should have been prosecuted at all was not for him to say. But the two-year trial itself, he went on, was a fair one; every safeguard was made to "evolve justice."

"I therefore direct the commanding general of the Eighth army to execute the sentences as pronounced by the tribunal," he continued.

Then he let it be known that the seven top defendants would be executed in secret and no photographs would be taken of their bodies. Many Japanese would interpret this as a precaution against extra humiliation—and therefore indirect flattery of Japan.

The same procedure—and the same interpretation — occurred during the executions of former Generals Tomoyuki Yamashita and Masaharu Homma in the Philippines. As one result of this secrecy, thousands of Japanese believe their two most successful field commanders in the Pacific are still alive.

Sex Slayer Confesses

CHICAGO (UP) — William Pollard, 26-year-old former mental patient, awaited return to St. Louis today to face trial for the sex-slaying of a two-year-old boy.

Pollard confessed yesterday that he beat blond, curly-haired Joseph Nichols jr., to death "with my fists" and then stuffed the infant's body into a dresser drawer in the American hotel at St. Louis.

The body was found more than 24 hours later by a chambermaid. Authorities said the baby had been violated sexually but Nichols denied a sexual motive for the murder. He said he killed the baby in a fit of rage because it would not sleep.

He left Huntington, W. Va., Nov. 11 with the child and went to New York and from there to St. Louis. It was there, he said, that he "slapped" the child to make him stop crying. He said he also threw him on the floor "several times."

Wrong Patient Gets Surgery

AKRON —(UP)— Akron hospital authorities today termed "regrettable" an incident in which a 20-year-old woman and a middle-aged woman were "mixed-up" so that the wrong operation was performed on a woman.

An official said he held the doctor, nurse and orderly in the case to blame.

The younger woman was to have had a tubercular cyst removed but instead her tonsils were removed. Meanwhile, the middle-aged woman, who was scheduled for the tonsilectomy, waited in another room.

Holiday Travel Heavy

The homeward trek for Thanksgiving has begun, and Mansfielders are joining others all over the nation in crowding buses, trains, and airplanes to spend the holiday with family or friends.

Travel agencies here expect the heaviest travel late this afternoon and tonight. Railroads said the number of passengers began to increase last night as some Mansfielders got an early start.

Trans-World Airline, Inc., at the Municipal airport said travel by air is expected to be even heavier this year than it was for the holiday last year. Reservations at the airport here indicate the number of passengers traveling by air this week end will be about double that of an ordinary week end.

BUSES PREPARED

An official at the bus station here said all available equipment would be pressed into service to handle the large crowds which are anticipated. He said buses would carry as many or more passengers than they did at the same time last year. The bus lines expect their heaviest traffic this afternoon and tonight and again Sunday evening.

Passengers who travel by rail or air on Thanksgiving day will not miss a holiday dinner. The traditional turkey with all the trimmings will be served on airplanes and in railroad dining cars.

The weatherman said weather tomorrow will be cloudy and cool.

Most Mansfield business and industrial firms will halt operations for the holiday. All public offices, banks, and most stores will be closed all day. Schools closed this afternoon until Monday.

Ired Mayor Will Fight

Canaday Promises All-Out Battle

POMEROY, — (UP) — Mayor Delmar A. (Kid) Canaday, ex-prize fighter suspended from office for 30 days by Gov. Thomas J. Herbert on charges of misconduct in office and gross neglect of duty, today promised to fight the suspension to the hilt.

Council President Sidney Spencer was appointed acting mayor of Pomeroy while Canaday travelled to Cleveland on business today.

"I'm going to Cleveland on business for a few days and while I'm gone, Spencer will be acting mayor, "Canaday said. The governor can't remove me from office or restrict my duties in any way. I'm an elected official and until the charges are proved, I'm mayor."

Of the governor's charges, Canaday said "this insults my dignity. I'll continue to fight." Canaday once held the West Virginia welter-weight boxing championship.

Nothing so far has been heard of Canaday's telegram to President Truman asking for Herbert's removal as governor of Ohio for misconduct in office.

Thief Takes Varied Loot, Puzzles Cops

COLUMBUS —(INS)— Columbus police kept an eye out today for a thief with some queer tastes and possibly a stomach ache.

William Mulcahy told officers someone looted his car last night of

One can of spoiled tuna fish.
One 24-pound carton of pretzels
One baby sweater.
One yard of black lace.
One brassiere.

Identify Skull

ZANESVILLE—(AP)—John Hillis yesterday identified clothing, a watch, and two pairs of glasses found near a skull in Perry county Monday as belonging to his father, Henry Hillis, 65, who had been missing since Jan. 4. Coroner H. F. Minshull of Perry county expressed belief that the elder Hillis had died of natural causes and that animals had made away with the rest of the body.

Act Alone On Berlin Proposal

Would Accept Moscow Plan

PARIS — (UP) — Britain and France split with the United States today on handling of the Berlin blockade crisis with Russia.

The United States refused to sign a note which the other western powers planned to present today to Juan A. Bramuglia of Argentina, president of the United Nations Security council, who is seeking to mediate the dispute resulting from Russia's five-month blockade of the western sectors of Berlin.

The Anglo-French note was reported to take a more conciliatory tone than the United States delegation felt was justified.

But a British spokesman, seeking to minimize the apparent difference among the western powers, said that the Americans were informed of the move and "acquiesced."

A French foreign office source said the joint note contained a copy of a memorandum delivered Sept. 7 by Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, British military governor in Germany, to Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky, Soviet military governor.

A French source said the delivery of the note today could be taken to mean that the British and French still were inclined to settle the Berlin problem in accordance wih the agreements reached with Premier Josef Stalin in the Moscow talks.

The American position now was that the situation had become far too complicated by subsequent Soviet moves in Berlin to return to a settlement on the earlier basis.

Bramuglia, leader of a new conciliation effort in the Berlin crisis, called the six so-called neutral members of the United Nations Security council into session.

The British spokesman said the further information to be delivered to Bramuglia by Britain and France dealt with the currency problem, the main issue in the east-west disagreement over Berlin.

Bramuglia had asked the big four for additional reports on the currency matter.

BRITISH DENY "SPLIT"

A British spokesman said the move did not mean any split "in principle" among the three western powers on the Berlin question.

The Robertson memorandum was understood to have stated that Berlin talks among the military governors were being suspended so the western governors could report back to their governments. And it was said to have included several allusions to Sokolovsky's good will during the Berlin talks.

The British spokesman said the memorandum was being turned over to Bramuglia with the "knowledge and acquiescence" of the U. S. delegation.

But the American position reportedly was that the Berlin situation, because of new Russian moves to split the administration there, no longer could be settled on the same basis as it might have been on Sept. 7, when the questions of lifting the blockade and establishing a single currency were about the only problems at issue.

Nationalist Troops Win

NANKING. — (INS) — National sources said today that Chinese government columns have smashed through communist lines east of Suchow, hurling back one prong of the new Red onslaught aimed at the heart of China.

Government dispatches from the Suchow area reported that several relief columns advanced under cover of air bombardment and blasted open the communist-ring around besieged Janchuan.

The relief columns are now said to have joined the Janchuan garrison.

On the southern sector the Nationalists claimed a victory in the recapture of the strategic rail town of Suhsien, 50 miles southeast of Suchow and 125 miles north west of Nanking. Earlier, the communists had claimed victory on the eastern front.

Desires to Know Where President Truman Finds 75-Cent Lamb Chops

NOW that it is all over, I wish Mr. Truman would tell me where he saw those 75-cent lamb chops that he talked so much about.

For a long time, fair to good lamb chops have been steady to brisk at $2 a unit in the humble inn where room-service mothers my modest wants and we seldom speak of steak because even a threadbare little sheet of senile bull-muscle of a size and texture suitable for black-eye therapy is $3.50. The regular steaks are practically out of print because they start at $4 for the minute version, which is not a measure of time but an old French proverb meaning: "How did you find the steak? Oh, I found it under one of the peas." Beyond that, steaks go into the metaphysical realm of the non-committal maybe. It is not a subject for the waiters, but one for agents and negotiation.

If you are really serious, the thing to do is go to a licensed broker and get him to scuffle around and bring in a set of offerings. Even the Stork club doesn't carry steak as an article of trade these days and you will understand what that means when you remember that the Stork has been practically the inner sanctum of the state department, the F.B.I., the Supreme Court and the self-less secretariat of the White House for 16 years.

If Mr. Truman does know where lamb chops go for 75 cents, just what is his position on that, anyway?

It is just as silly to argue for a flat, nationwide price for a lamb chop to all classes of customers as it would be to demand a standard wage for all of us across the country.

When wages are regulated by the government, through the unions, as they are in most of the trades, there is no reason why a man makes $125 a week should be guaranteed lamb chops at the price he paid when the same job paid only $60. He ought to pay at least twice as much for everything because whatever it is that he is producing costs the consumers roughly twice as much.

In many cases, he should be made to pay an extra penalty price for his eggs, underwear and house because a large portion of his wages—say about one-third—represents sheer extortion from the consumers.

This is the money he gets for mock-work, loafing, some classes of portal-to-portal time and artificial overtime. Artificial overtime is the double-time for Saturdays which the government helps the unions to collect for men who insist on working Saturdays but never show up on Mondays.

They get one day's pay free and there are millions of them in on this. For that day's pay they produce no apartments, no automobiles or anything else.

The sheepcr in Montana has no way of needling into his price of lamb chops double-time for the growing that his animals do on Saturdays. I concede that he must be doing well, for he is an arbitrary fellow who will quit sheeping in a minute when he suspects that he isn't.

Moreover, like all the rest of the farmers, he now has a "vested interest" and the price of chops includes a heavy subsidy paid by the same government which warned him that if he didn't re-elect Mr. T. he would be a historic ingrate.

A few years ago when alarms were sung that unions were growing too strong, the taunt always was, "Too strong for what?"

When Mr. Truman says 75 cents is too much for a lamb chop, what does he mean too much? Too much for a man drawing $125 for four days' work? or too much for a city girl with a dependent child or mother on $40 a week?

Treadwell Bound Over In Attack

Pleads Innocent In City Court

Elmer Treadwell, 41 Harmon avenue, pleaded innocent in municipal court today to a charge of assaulting a Mansfield policeman with a dangerous weapon and was held to the grand jury under $1,000 bond.

He denied striking Patrolman Glenn Adams with the officer's night stick, but admitted that he had struck him with his fist several times.

Patrolman Adams, testifying about the Saturday night fight at 313 North Main street, said he was struck in the month by Treadwell and was staggered by the blow.

"I felt my night club being taken from my grasp and then felt a blow on my head which knocked me to the ground," Adams told the court.

KICKED IN HEAD

He said he was kicked in the head and leg while he was lying on the ground, partially unconscious from the blows.

Mrs. Jesse Harper, 41 Harmon avenue said she saw the battle between the officer and Treadwell, but was unable to identify Adams who was sitting in the jury box in front of her.

Two other witnesses, Mrs. Margaret Noll, 313 High street, and Roosevelt Thomas, 556 Lily street, testified that they saw Treadwell strike Adams, who was treated and released from General hospital after the battle.

Unrepresented by an attorney, Treadwell took the stand on his own behalf, and admitted striking Adams with his fist, but denied that he hit him on the head with the nightstick.

City Solicitor C. J. Kalbfleisch examined the first witness, but turned the questioning over to Prosecutor Theodore Lutz when the latter arrived.

U. S. Names Landlord

A petition was filed in the Cleveland Federal court in the office of the federal housing expediter against Kent A. Buchanan, of Bucyrus for alleged violation of the Federal Rent Control law.

The action was based on belief by the government that Buchanan was collecting rent in excess of ceiling for property located at 514 South East street, Bucyrus. The government asks an injunction to enjoin the defendant from further violation of the law.

The petition also asks the federal court order the defendant to refund overcharges amounting to $262.50. The sum represents 21 months overcharge at $12.50 per month.

Mrs. Julia Miller, 130 Purdy street, was permanently enjoined by the Federal court in Cleveland from overcharging a tenant.

George H. Blecker, area rent control director, said an injunction has the effect of preventing further violations, in that a violator can be cited for contempt in case of repeated violations of the rent control law.

Father Ordered To Support Family

Joe Patrick, of Shiloh, R. D. 2, charged with non-support of six children from Oct. 30 to the present time, was placed on probation for one year yesterday by Juvenile Judge Stuart H. Cramer.

Patrick pleaded innocent to the charges but was found guilty by the court. The probation is on condition that Patrick provide reasonable support for the children who range in age from two months to 11 years.

Man Injured In Mishap

Car, Truck Collide North of City

State highway patrolmen continued an investigation today of a truck-car accident on the airport detour last night which resulted in injuries to a Greenwich man.

Injured was Kluran Robinson, Greenwich, R. D. 1, who suffered severe lacerations of the face and possible rib fractures when the rear of the truck swung over into the path of his car.

Officers said the truck, driven by Charles Griffith, Mansfield, R. D. 6, struck a bridge on the detour approximately six miles north of Mansfield. The impact, officers said, broke the axle of the truck and swung the rear of the truck into the path of the car.

Griffith told officers he was blinded by the lights of an oncoming car. Robinson was treated by a Greenwich physician.

Pupils Give Program

Students at Springfield township school presented their annual Thanksgiving program in the school auditorium this afternoon.

The program consisted of the following numbers: piano solo, Jo Ann DeSanzi; Psalm 100 and prayer, Thelma Ridenour; "Come Ye Thankful People Come," sung by student group; the Prssident's Thanksgiving Proclamation by Betty Eicelberger; 'Prayer of Thanksgiving," a Netherlands folk song sung by a mixed octet, including Sylvia Warne, Glenna Riddle, Barbara Odenkirk, Dorothy Barnhill, Dwight Rader, Gene Kenke, James Zehner and David Malaby; Thanksgiving, 1949," a talk by Irvin Brissell; Ave Maria," by Schubert, a violin solo by Evelyn Beymer; "Thanksgiving Poem" by Joseph Auslander, read by Nesoa Price; The Lord's Prayer," sung by the high school girls' chorus; postlude, a piano solo by David Buchanan who also accompanied Evelyn Beymer.

The faculty committee in charge of arrangements included: Herbert Krichbaum, Ronald Sommerville and Mrs. Lois McCullough.

Death Takes Mrs. Huffman

Mrs. Ida R. Huffman, 52, wife of Maurice H. Huffman, 208 Saxton road, died at General hospital this morning following a brief illness.

She was born in Pennsylvania March 15, 1896, and had been a resident of Mansfield the past year and a half.

She was a member of the Main Street Evangelical United Brethren church and the Loyal Order of Moose.

Surviving are her husband, two sisters, Mrs. Ollie Taylor of Mansfield and Mrs. Mary Bowman of Norfolk, Va., and three brothers, Earl, John, amd Russell Stern of Stoystown, Pa.

Rev. Willard J. Shawk, pastor of the Main Street Evangelical United Brethren church, will conduct funeral services at the Finefrock funeral home at 1:30 p. m. Saturday. Burial will be in Greenlawn cemetery in Plymouth.

Friends may call at the funeral home until time of services.

Auxiliary Patrol To Be Reorganized

Reorganization of the Auxiliary Highway Patrol into a disaster organization to serve Mansfield and the area was announced today by Capt. G. C. Kahl, commanding officer of the patrol.

First 40-hour schol session will be held Monday at 7:30 p. m at the McVey Post Legion home. The patrol is sponsored by the American Legion.

Under the instruction of Cpl. J. L. Bishop of the Mansfield highway patrol post, assisted by Patrolman S W. Lucas, the trainees will be started on the course, leading up to graduation next April in Columbus at the Legion convention.

Fifty new members is the goal of the new patrol.

The old patrol, which still has 32 members, was formed in January, 1942, and headed by past Capt. Hollis Moorhead. Members participated in the airplane wreck at Shenandoah, the train wreck on the Erie and the train wreck at Shiloh.

WIN PRAISE

Their outstanding services during these emergencies brought praise from Col. George Mingle. Members also directed the parking of cars at the airport dedication.

Falling off to a social organization after the war, the group was ordered back into full activity last April by Col. Mingle.

Qualifications for membership in the patrol are: a Legion member in good standing, physical fit, good moral character, well thought of in the community and willingness to avail himself of the training and services of the Auxiliary Highway Patrol. Purpose of the program, Capt. Kahl said, is national defense, first aid and safety.

Present officers of the patrol are: Capt. Kahl; Lt. P. C. Davis, and Leo J. Robinson; Sergeants Cecil Schill, Howard Hannafus; Corporals Harvey Burghard, Howard Neuman, C. L. Van Tilburg and Oral Keirns.

E. M. Roth Dies At 53

Elam M. Roth, 53, died at General hospital at 5 a. m. today. He had been ill for the past 10 days following a heart attack.

Mr. Roth, co-owner of the Max Diner, was born April 16, 1895, in Walnut Creek, the son of the late Louis and Elizabeth Kramer Roth. He came to Mansfield 30 years ago and during that time had been in the restaurant business here.

He was a member of the First Lutheran church, the American Legion, having served in World War I, the 40 et 8 society, Eagles and Loyal Order of Moose.

Mr. Roth also was a member of Venus lodge, and was honored last October for 25 years of membership with the Masonic body.

Surviving are his wife, Daisy Lambert Roth; one brother, Daniel Roth, and one sister, Mrs. Allen Shoup, both of Orrville.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 8 p. m. at the Jones Memorial with Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell officiating. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home.

Fender Skirt Thieves Busy

After a week of auto aerial and radiator ornament thefts, police are now looking for fender skirts thieves who have "worked" the south end of the city the past two nights.

George Gustin of Columbus, a guest at the Mansfield-Leland hotel, reported to officers late yesterday that the fender skirts from his car were stolen while the car parked on South Diamond street last night. Gustin valued the skirts at $50.

A similar report was made to police by Robert Bunting, 293 Remy avenue, who said the fender skirts from his auto, were taken Monday night. He said the theft occurred either while the car was parked in his driveway or parked near John Todd park. He valued the accessories at $25.

Hess Infant Dies In Hospital

The two-day old son of Mr and Mrs. Gerald Hess, 545 Woodville road, died today at General hospital.

The child, born on Nov. 22, leaves in addition to his parents, his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hess, 537 Woodville road.

Graveside services will be held at 9:30 a. m. Friday at Ceserea cemetery in Washington township. Funeral arrangements are being made by the Wolford funeral home.

Up and Down the Street...

HAPPY BIRTHDAY—

O. C. McCormick, salesman for Cities Service Oil company, will be enjoying his favorite hobby, entertaining his two grandsons, when he celebrates his birthday tonight. McCormick's son and his family are coming from Columbus for the birthday dinner. His daughter also will be present for the celebration.

McCormick

McCormick is active in the Boy Scouts, Chamber of Commerce, Elks lodge, Masonic order, and the First Presbyterian church. He lives at 66 Stewart avenue.

Dwight P. Smith, treasurer and assistant secretary of Lumbermens Mutual Insurance company, will postpone his birthday celebration until tomorrow. He and his son, whose birthday is Saturday, will celebrate jointly at a combined Thanksgiving and birthday dinner. His son is coming from Cleveland to spend the day.

Smith jokes about the fact that he came within 12 miles of being born a Canadian. He was born on the Isle of St. George and spent his early life in Sandusky, coming to Mansfield in 1916.

He is a member of the Masonic order, Kiwanis club, Westbrook Country club, and the First Congregational church.

Smith is married and the father of a son and a daughter. He lives at 96 Glenwood boulevard.

Also celebrating birthdays today are Carlton Fernyak, secretary and treasurer of the Mansfield Typewriter and Office Supply company; and Stuart Weaver, executive vice president of the Ideal Electric company.

Fernyak lives at 670 Park avenue west and Weaver at 520 Chevy Chase road.

TRIP SUCCESSFUL—

His Canadian hunting trip netted him an eight-point buck which weighed approximately 200 pounds, Probate Judge Stuart H. Cramer said today. Judge Cramer was one of 14 in a party from Mansfield which went deer hunting in Loring, Ontario, during the past two weeks. A lot of rain fell in that area while they were there, the judge said. The spot where they hunted required a hike of five miles getting in and out. The entire party took 11 bucks and three does.

STILL TRYING—

The fire department smelled like an evergreen nursery today. Firemen were busy testing various types of chemicals designed to fireproof evergreens used for Christmas decorations. Fire Chief L. J. Steele reported that as yet they have been unable to find a solution that makes the trees fireproof. Chief Steele has banned the use of evergreens for Christmas decorations in all public buildings.

Navy Enlists 4 Area Men

Four area men enlisted today in the United States Navy, the Mansfield Navy Recruiting station announced. They are Ailor K. Thompson of Mansfield, Donald L. Perry of Ontario, George E. McClintock of Bucyrus and Paul E. Dailey of Mt. Vernon.

All of the men with the exception of Dailey have signed up for three years. Dailey enlisted for one. McClintock, a naval veteran of two years, was sent to the receiving station at San Pedro, Cal., for general assignment while the other three were sent for "boot training" at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center.

Lichtle Child Dies At Birth

Sandra Lichtle, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Lichtle, 150½ Wood street, died at birth last night at Mansfield General hospital.

Graveside services were scheduled for this afternoon with burial in Mansfield Catholic cemetery. Arrangements were in charge of the Geiger funeral home.

Besides the parents, the infant is survived by her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Theresa Lichtle, and her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sturgeon Gregg, all of Mansfield.

$14,488 Donated For Work

Total Just Short of Goal

The YMCA face-lifting project, started three weeks ago, has received an unexpected boost with $2,000 added to the $12,488 already raised to finance it.

The additional funds were raised by George W. Stephens, president of the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company. He said the money was donated by Mansfield industries.

The $2,000 will make it possible to make other changes in the YMCA buildings and fixtures, Maurice Taylor, "Y" secretary, said.

In addition to the work currently under way, the YMCA kitchen will be enlarged, two club rooms will be combined into one large meeting room, all the building's window frames will be painted, and more of the interior will be painted and replastered. Taylor said the funds will permit replacing some of the worn-out physical education equipment.

SET $15,000 GOAL

When the program was first discussed by the board of directors last year the goal was set at $15,000. In view of the fact that a new building was out of the question for the immediate future, it was decided to raise money to put the 51-year-old building in safe operating condition for the next few years.

The project included improving lighting facilities, installing new equipment, constructing a rifle range, and decorating the interior. Funds were to be raised by donations.

Stephens said he would raise two dollars for each dollar the fund-raising committee obtained. The committee, headed by Rev. Matthew G. Madden, raised $4,000, and Stephens raised $8,000. The money he added to the fund this week gives him a total of $10,000 raised.

The total amount of money for the repair program is just a few dollars short of the figure originally planned: Taylor said, however, last-minute contributions may push the fund up to the $15,000 mark.

Increased membership has crowded the "Y," and plans are under way to increase the staff and add more social activities when the building streamlining is complete.

L. T. Eyerly Dies At 68

Lloyd Terrell Eyerly, 68, a lifelong resident of Mansfield, died at Mansfield General hospital this morning following a three-week illness. Mr. Eyerly lived at 441 McPherson street.

He was born in Mansfield Dec. 7, 1879. He had been an employe of the Hughes Keenan company for 25 years and was a member of Court Mansfield No. 1455, Independent Order of Foresters.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Carrie Mercer Eyerly; three sons, Arthur, Willard, and Harry Eyerly; one daughter, Miss Doris Eyerly; and six grandchildren, all of Mansfield; and a brother, Ross Eyerly of Binghamton, N. Y.

Rev. A. F. Lindbeck, pastor of the Mayflower Congregational church, will conduct funeral services at the Finefrock funeral home at 3 p. m. Friday. Burial will be in Mansfield cemetery. Former associates of Mr. Eyerly at the Hughes Keenan company will be pallbearers.

Friends may call at the family home until noon Friday.

Ex-Grid Star Now Lieutenant

Edward A. Stacco, former professional football player with the Washington Redskins and the Detroit Lions yesterday was officially sworn in here as a lieutenant in the United States Marine Corps reserve by Lt. Cmdr. J. A. Smith, inspector-instructor of the Mansfield Naval Training Center.

A veteran of the Marine Corps, Stacco played college football with Colgate university and was chosen in 1943 as one of the members of the All-Eastern team.

A native of Carbondale, Pa., Stacco married the former Ann Moritz of Mansfield. He hopes to make Mansfield his home.

Importance of Individual Emphasized By Minister

Speaking to more than 150 Mansfield Rotary and Kiwanis club members at their annual Thanksgiving meeting yesterday, Rev. Matthew Madden said the holiday spirit should be expressed through the needs of the individual rather than through the traditional patriotic conception of Thanksgiving.

Rev. Madden, pastor of the First Congregational church, spoke at a joint meeting of the clubs at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

He listed three qualities in man as conducive to the "good life." These were a full and enjoyable life, a spirit of dissatisfaction always as the necessary spark of progress, and the retaining of human sympathies in spite of life's unpleasant experiences.

Using past experiences from his own life, Rev. Madden emphasized his points by anecdotes. Relating the bitterness of a businessman because of his son's death in the battle of Germany, the speaker described the understandable vindictive attitude of this man and the attendant blunting of his human sympathies towards his fellow man.

"A full life is necessarily one of many sorrows," the pastor said, "and sorrow is one of the greatest character builders in human experience."

Joint program chairmen for the day were Walter Stevens of the Kiwanis and Maurice Taylor of the Rotary club.

Apple Creek School Architect Fired By Public Works Chief

COLUMBUS, — (UP) — Public works director George B Sowers has fired a Cleveland architect supervising the construction of a $3 500,000 hospital at the Apple Creek State school, it was learned today

Sowers discharged Joseph A Gattozzi as architect at the institution for the Feeble Minded effective Nov 15 in a letter Copies of the letter were sent to the Governor Welfare Director Attorney General and head of the Apple Creek school

The letter from Sowers informed Gattozzi that the Attorney General had been asked to bring suit to collect any cost to the state "resulting from changes additions and repairs necessary by reason of defects and mistakes in the plans and specifications prepared by you under the contract"

Sowers added that the amount probably couldn't be determined until the project is completed

Gattozzi was hired to draw the plans for the building under the previous administration of Frank J. Lausche. The contract called for supervision by him or his agents of the construction work. He was to receive six per cent of the first $1,000.000 and five and one half per cent of the remainder of the cost of the building.

Allen said no other architect would be hired and that William Wilford, of Blacklick, an employe in the public works department, would continue to supervise the project for the state Wilford has been at the Apple Creek project since construction contracts were let in October, 1947

RHO CHAPTER, CHI SIGMA, ENTERTAINS GUESTS

Dinner Party Held Tuesday Evening at North Lake Park Pavilion for Seven Visitors.

RHO CHAPTER of Chi Sigma sorority held a guest dinner party last night at the North Lake park pavilion. Guests for the evening were Mrs. Kenneth Schmunk, Mrs. Robert Fry, Mrs. Floyd Adams, Mrs. Frank Waller, Mrs. Foster Bell, Mrs. Argale Paul and Mrs. Donald Hattman.

Chairman for the dinner party was Miss Ruth Jaberg. She was assisted by Miss Margaret McFadden, Mrs. Robert Morrow, Mrs. William Mosey, Mrs. Russell Porch and Mrs. Paul Schmunk.

A short business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. William Enlow. The Thanksgiving basket to be given to the sorority's adopted family was discussed and Miss Jaberg was named chairman of the committee. She will be assisted by Miss Anna Louise Dietrichson, Mrs. C. E. Hunter and Mrs. George Connor.

Mrs. Mervin Clark was appointed chairman of the committee for the rummage sale to be held Dec. 1, from 8 a. m. to 12 p. m., at 262 North Main street. A dinner dance for members and guests was planned for Dec. 4 at the Sky Club restaurant. Dance chairman will be Mrs. Wilbur Upson. She will be assisted by Mrs. Burlyn Schuck, Mrs. Enlow, Miss McFadden and Mrs. John Carothers.

A bake sale followed the dinner and bridge was the diversion of the evening. Prizes were won by Miss Donna Enlow, Mrs. Dean Fighter and Mrs. Fry. The next meeting will be held Dec. 7, at 8 p. m. at the YMCA clubrooms.

Ruth Circle Has Luncheon At Temple

Ruth Circle, Order of the Eastern Star, met yesterday at the Masonic Temple for a 1 o'clock dessert luncheon. Mrs. Charles Finfgeld and her committee were in charge.

The long lace-covered table was attractively decorated with a basket made from squash and filled with fruit forming the centerpiece. Sprigs of honeysuckle vine and two lighted yellow tapers were placed on either side of the basket. Mrs. F. E. Domer, worthy matron, poured.

A short business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Stanley Harper. Cards were the diversion of the afternoon with 12 tables in play. Prizes were won by Mrs. Georgia Hackedorn and Mrs. J. C. Hamilton. The next meeting will be held in December with Mrs. J. C. Hamilton and her committee in charge.

COVERED DISH DINNER

The boys and girls of the junior department of the Central Methodist church met Tuesday evening at North Lake park coliseum for a covered dish dinner and skating. Mrs. Harry Dennis, superintendent of the department, was hostess for the affair. The tables for the 40 members, teachers and guests, were appointed with the Thanksgiving theme.

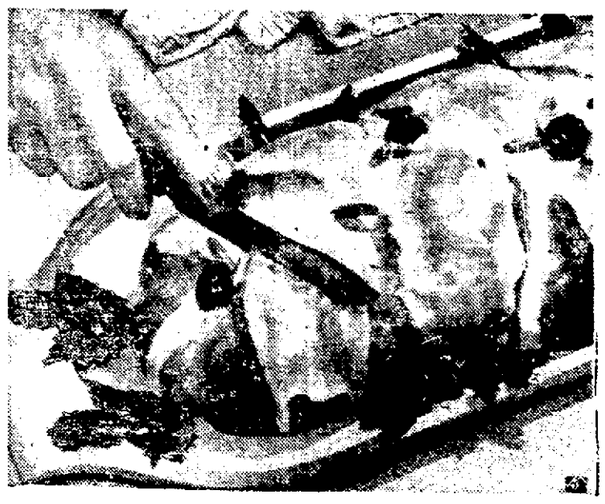
- FRAGRANT YULE LOAVES FROM THE OVEN

BY CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

There's nothing more satisfying for holiday feasting than a special loaf of yeast bread, fragrant with spices, sweet with frosting, and fresh from your own oven. If you've never tried your hand at one of these loaves before, why not have a pre-Christmas rehearsal? Your family won't mind one bit! Then when you make the bread for Christmas itself you can add extra festive decorations.

As a peg on which to hang your rehearsal choose December 13th. That's the day on which the Christmas season is formally ushered in in Sweden by "Lucia Brides," and the youngsters in your family will get a thrill out of being introduced to this holiday tradition of another country. Here is Anna Olsson Coombs' delightful description of the custom in her fine "Modern Swedish Cookbook," published by A. A. Wynn, New York ($2.50).



SWEDISH BRAID

"This custom originated during pagan times, when this festival was a celebration to greet the returning of the sun. The Swedish winters are long and cold and dark and people have always cherished this occasion to plunge into a veritable abundance of light in the way of torches, bonfires and candles, which in our times have given way somewhat to the Christmas tree. As you probably already know, each day in the Swedish calendar has a name, and Lucia's day happens to come (or it may have been prearranged) on December 13. Well do I remember those frosty, clear, starlit mornings, when we rushed to make coffee and set bountiful trays with fresh saffron buns, drape ourselves in long white nightgowns, and crown our heads with wreaths of pine bows and as many candles as we dared to carry. Then, with the candles burning we proceeded to dispense our bounty, first to our parents and then to our neighbors and friends, singing Christmas carols and thus, in a solemn and somewhat awed spirit, inaugurating the holiday season. The Lucia Tray, with its buns, stars, and Santa Clauses, still, over the flight of years, wafts a spicy fragrance of almonds, raisins, and cardamom seeds."

Although the following recipe does not come from Mrs. Coomb's cookbook, it has the same food feasting qualities she conjures up.

SWEDISH CHRISTMAS BRAID

Ingredients: 1 package granulated yeast, ¼ cup lukewarm water, 1 cup scalded milk, 3¾ cups sifted flour, ¼ cup melted vitaminized margarine, one-third cup sugar, 1 egg (well beaten), ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon almond extract, one-eighth teaspoon crushed cardamom seeds, 1 egg yolk (slightly beaten), 1½ teaspoons water, confectioners' sugar icing, candied cherries, slivered toasted almonds.

Method: Dissolve yeast in ¼ cup lukewarm water. Stir in ¼ cup of the scalded milk, which has been allowed to cool until lukewarm. Add ½ cup flour, beat thoroughly, cover, and let rise. When light, add remaining milk and 2 cups flour. Stir until well mixed, cover, and again let rise; add margarine, sugar, well beaten egg, salt, almond extract, crushed cardamom seeds, and remaining 1¼ cup extra flour; cover and let rise. Divide dough into three equal parts and roll, using hands, in long pieces of uniform size. Place rolls on baking sheet greased with vitaminized margarine, then braid. Cover and let rise. Bake in moderate (350 degrees F.) oven for 20 minutes. While still warm frost with icing made by adding confectioners' sugar to 1 tablespoon water to make a rather stiff mixture. Garnish with candied cherries and slivered toasted almonds. Makes 10 to 12 servings. This bread will stay fresh several days if covered closely. It can be easily freshened by heating for a brief time in a warm oven.

HOT FLASHES?

Are you going thru the functional 'middle-age' period peculiar to women (38-52 yrs.)? Does this make you suffer from hot flashes, feel so nervous, high-strung, tired? Then do try Lydia E. Junior Music Club Hears Miss Marilyn Little At Program

THIRTY-TWO members of the Junior Music club met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. George S. Jones, 555 Maple street. Richard Maxwell, president, conducted a business session after which Barbara Brown, program chairman, introduced a guest artist, Miss Marilyn Little, a graduate of Baldwin-Wallace conservatory. She recently opened a studio here for voice students.

She explained the development of the Opera, illustrating her talk with recordings. Highlighting her program was the singing of two arias, "Un Beldi" from Puccini's "Madame Butterfly" and "Indian Love Call" from Friml's "Rosemary."

The remainder of the program was given by the club members. David Selfman, pianist, played "Valse in C Sharp Minor" by Chopin, and "Scotch Poem" by MacDowell. Audrey Buchanan, pianist, played the theme from Grieg's Concerto; Patsy Smith and Mary Lou Smith, played four-handed "Gavotte" by Gluck, arranged by Brahms and "Spanish Dance" by Maskowsky. A trio composed of Marilyn Volz, piano, Richard Maxwell, violin and Sally Smith, cello, played "La Paloma" by Yradier.

At a late hour refreshments were served. The next meeting will be a Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Scott Brown, 143 Rae avenue, on Dec. 21.

Timely Topics Club Meets At Sky Club

The Timely Topics Study club met at the Sky club for a luncheon with Miss Carolyn Walter as hostess. An interesting paper on "The Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary" was given by Mrs. William Clay.

The next meeting is scheduled for Dec. 3 to be held at the Ohio State Reformatory with Mrs. A. Lewis and Mrs. Arthur Glattke as hostesses.

It's Purely Personal

Have You Heard . . .

By OLIVE GRESMER

. . . Mr. and Mrs. John Miller, 844 Lexington avenue, are celebrating their 42nd wedding anniversary today. Mr. Miller is a retired police captain. The day will be spent with Mr. Miller's brother, William C. Miller, of Virden, Ill. This is the first time the brothers have seen each other in 40 years.

* * *

Miss Evelyn Boehmler, bride-elect of Richard E. Fisher, was feated recently at a pre-nuptial shower at the home of Miss Kathryn Robinson, 634 West Fourth street. Twelve guests were present for the diversion of cards. Prizes were won by Miss Ann Crittenden, Miss Boehmler and Miss Robinson. Gifts were given to the honoree. The mantel of the living room was attractively decorated with a miniature bride and groom and mixed flowers. Balloons which hung from the mantel were broken by darts, thus disclosing the hiding places of the shower gifts. The luncheon was served buffet style from a table centered with a miniature wedding party, floating candles and flowers. Miss Boehmler and Mr. Fisher will be wed Dec. 4 at 3:30 o'clock at the St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church.

*

. . . Mr. and Mrs. J. Frederick Whisler and daughter, Linda, of South Bend, Ind., will arrive here tonight to spend Thanksgiving with Mr. Whisler's mother, Mrs. Hazel Whisler, 56 Marion avenue.

* * *

Miss Shirley Anson, 308 Park avenue west, was hostess to twelve friends of Miss Barbara Meilinger, bride-elect of Frank Henry Hanscom jr. The buffet supper was served at small tables with a bouquet of evergreen and bittersweet and white candles on the honoree's table. Games were the diversion of the evening with the prize going to Mrs. Jack Schettler. A miscellaneous shower followed the supper. Miss Meilinger and Mr. Hanscom will exchange nuptial vows Saturday before the altar of the Grace Episcopal church with the Rev. U. J. Peard officiating.

Thanks to many people for many things

THIS IS THE SEASON OF THANKSGIVING . . .

And there is much for which we can all be thankful in this great country of ours.

Certainly we are thankful for a bountiful harvest of grain and corn, for a high level of production and employment, for a standard of living that is the envy of the world.

Most of all, perhaps, we are grateful for our American heritage . . . freedom of opportunity, freedom of choice, freedom to think and worship according to our own beliefs.

We Feel as a Chevrolet dealer it is an appropriate time to convey our sincere appreciation to the people of this community for their loyalty, patience and understanding.

For Despite Chevrolet's production of more cars and trucks during 1948 than any other manufacturer there is still a long "waiting list" for America's most-wanted cars and trucks.

Chevrolet is doing everything within its power to maintain and increase production. Meantime, we would like to express our thanks . . .

Thanks to Buyers and Prospective Buyers of New Chevrolets for your generous recognition of the honest value built into this first-choice car in the low-priced field. More people have bought Chevrolet cars and trucks, during the eighteen-year period from 1931 to date, than have bought the cars and trucks of any other manufacturer.

Thanks to Those Who Are Waiting for Orders to be Filled for your patience and understanding. You can be sure we are doing our best to treat all customers fairly . . . doing our best to speed the day when we can give you the good news, "Your waiting days are over!"

Thanks to Service Customers for the opportunity to keep your present cars in safe driving condition. We have tried to serve you well, and appreciate your patronage.

Thanks to all whose friendship and favor have helped maintain Chevrolet's leadership . . .

Thanks for your patronage which has made

Late Runout May Mean End Of Graziano

OAKLAND, Calif — (UP) — Rocky Graziano's abrupt withdrawal from his fight with ex-Champion Fred Apostoli "means the finish to his boxing career," Promoter Jimmy Murray said today.

Murray said he would demand Graziano's suspension and file a damage suit 'within a few days'

Naturally, I'll sue," Murray declared "I'm out more than $10,000 for promotion on this fight already, and now I'll have to start refunding ticket money"

★

NEW YORK — (UP) — Rocky Graziano explained today that he was risking national suspension rather than "go into the water" at Oakland Dec 1

He would have been in such 'terrible shape' for ex-Champion Apostoli that he would have had to take a sudden kayo or "make a lousy fight of it," he said

He continued "A lotta people think I'm crazy because of all the trouble I've had And maybe I am kinda screwy But nobody can say I didn't give the customers a run for their money — once I climbed into the ring And nobody'll ever be able to say that"

Auction Sale!

At my farm on U. S. Route 42, between Plain City and Delaware, Ohio.

Tuesday Afternoon
November 30th
1:00 P. M.—Lunch Served

70 Holstein Cows 70
and Heifers
Registered and Grade
Close-up and Fresh

At this sale, the famous quadruplet heifers, born 2-13-48; from the dam, Pontiac Rag Apple Peg, Reserve Champion in the milking class, in the 1948 B & W show at Perth, will be sold.

The birth and survival of quad heifers is very, very rare, and the opportunity to see and purchase them is seldom offered. With the passing of uncertainties, the time is now ripe to increase the herd or to enter the dairy business. The ration between milk prices and feed costs is now most advantageous for the dairyman.

Heifers and young cows make up the entire offering. Many have records of production and others are capable of making outstanding ones if given an opportunity. The Canadian Holsteins are rugged and acclaimed to do well in our climate.

A great many are calfhood vaccinated. The calves are sired by outstanding sires, guaranteed to live for a week, and will be sold separately.

Registration certificates transferred free. Four generation pedigrees furnished. State laboratory tested.

Three Tyger Opponents Make All-Ohio

Joe Miller, Tom Tucker Get 'Mention'

By JIM DAILEY

COLUMBUS — (UP) — Two of the top teams in Ohio—widely separated geographically—each placed two men on the United Press All-Ohio school fooball team selected by a poll of sports editors from newspapers and radio.

Undefeated Martins Ferry, and once-defeated Canton McKinley were the honored teams. Dick Thomas, Martins Ferry end, and Jim Bailey, great back from Hamilton, were the repeaters from last year on the team.

Martins Ferry placed Thomas at end and J. Defede at guard on the first eleven, while McKinley had Nick O'Brovac at tackle and Johnny Colceri at left half.

TYGERS FIGURE

Four of the first team selections, the Hamilton and the Martins Ferry boys appeared against Mansfield Senior high. The Tygers only representatives were Halfback Tom Tucker and Joe Miller who made honorable mention.

The voting editors usually singled out one o rtwo players from their selections for particular praise.

Russ Davies of the Elyria Chronicle said that tackle Dick Olson of Lorain was probably the best in his area, while Glen Geib of the Fremont News Messenger was high on Bob Beck of Fremont Ross, as were others who had seen him.

Geib said Beck is "a bearcat offensively and defensively, averages 40 yards per kick in punting, and also does all the passing," for the strong Fremonters.

Jim Porter of the Gallipolis Daily Tribune said Gene Wetherholt's place-kicking alone would rate him a college education anywhere in the country, and John C. Kelley of the Conneaut News-Herald said Jim Hietikko, Conneaut tackle, has been under the eye of Ohio State coach Wes Fesler.

RIDER'S STAR

The Martins Ferry Times-Leader's Bill Van Horne said Thomas was even better than last year and was one of the big reasons Mansfield and Steubenville couldn't score against the Riders. Thomas is the son of Martins Ferry coach Fred Thomas.

Bud Volzer of the Canton Repository said O'Bravac, Canton's captain, is a 48-minute player at tackle and loves the rough going. George Wilson, Urichsville Chronicle, said Dean Coventry, a guard, doubled as a fullback in one game and gained 90 yards rushing.

The Selections:

FIRST TEAM

Player	School	Pos.
D. Thomas	Martins Ferry	E
Olson, Lorain		T
Paul, Massillon		G
Addison, Alliance		C
Defede, Martins Ferry		G
O'Brovac, Canton McKinley		T
Grimsas, Middletown		E
Burson, Lakewood		QB
Colceri, McKinley		HB
Bailey, Hamilton		HB
Beck, Fremont Ross		FB

SECOND TEAM

Player	School	Pos.

Cage Season Opens Tonight For Union 'Hi'

Union high school will open its basketball season tonight when it rolls out the welcome mat for an invading Hayesville team.

Union has only three lettermen back from last year but Bill Pedigo, the new Union coach is counting on the overall height of the squad to offset the lack of experience.

Pedigo, an Ashland college graduate, took over the reins at Union this fall, succeeding Fred LaRue who is now at Johnny Appleseed junior high.

GUARDS ARE BACK

Back from last year's team are a pair of guards, Ned Deihl and Dave Walker and Center John Franks, all seniors. Pedigo plans to work a pair of juniors, Forrest Pruner and Clyde Skeen at the forwards to round out the first five.

Other boys on the squad are Ben Baith, senior forward; Forrest Smith, senior guard; Alan Sapp, junior center; Dean Maxwell, junior guard; Walter Walker, junior forward; and Junior McCormick, a junior forward. A twelfth man, Bob Backensto, is expected to join the squad at the end of the first semester. He is six-one.

After tonight, Union will play only one game in addition to the county league slate. Greenwich is scheduled to come to Union Jan. 25.

Unable to Locate Immediate Family Of Hack Wilson

BALTIMORE — (UP) — Close friends of Lewis (Hack) Wilson, famed ex-home run hitter of the Chicago Cubs who died yesterday, today were attempting to contact his relatives in an effort to make funeral arrangements.

Ralph Roberts, a long-time friend of the former major league outfielder, was trying through police and the press to contact Wilson's two sisters, who live near Philadelphia. Roberts said he also wired National League President Ford Frick to help get in touch with the ballplayer's immediate family.

Wilson, who hit 56 home runs with the Cubs during 1930 for a National league record that still stands, died in Baltimore City hospital of a respiratory ailment. He played with the New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers in addition to the Cubs.

Lexington Upsets Mighty Edison Cage Team, 62-50

LEXINGTON—Lexington upset the powerful Edison high school basketball team here last night by the simple method of taking a huge lead and never letting the visitors catch up.

The host Minutemen racked up 24 points in the first quarter while Edison, playing its first game of the year could not hit. Lexington built up its lead and had a 55-25 advantage when the last quarter opened.

Dick Dill, the Minutemen's ace center, set the scoring pace with 21 points while Dale Shipman of Edison had 19. Lexington's Tom Tupps counted 17 while Maynard Goare, Edison's All-Ohio boy from last year, was held to 11 counters.

Lexington won the reserve game by a 50-12 score.

Cleveland Gets Pitcher Haynes For Joe Tipton

CLEVELAND — (UP) — The Cleveland Indians today obtained Pitcher Joe Haynes from the Chicago White Sox in a straight player deal for Catcher Joe Tipton.

Haynes, 31, is a hight-hander with a record of 66 wins and 61 losses during his 10 years in the majors.

He spent the last eight years with the White Sox, going to them in 1941 from Washington.

A particular nemesis of the Indians, Haynes had a 15-9 record against the Tribe and in 1946 beat Cleveland five times, with four of his wins coming against fireball Bob Feller.

He made the American league all-star squad in 1948 but did not play in the all-star game.

Haynes was bothered with a sore shoulder, last season and at the present time is consulting with Dr. George Bennett in Baltimore on the advisability of an operation. Bennett also has treated the Yankees' Joe DiMaggio.

Tipton, 26, appeared in 47 games for the Indians last season and batted .289. He came here from Wilkes-Barre, where he was the leading hitter in the Eastern league in 1947.

Danville Quint Hot, Beats Butler By 57-39 Score

BUTLER—A hot-shooting Danville high school team connected on about 45 per cent of its shots here last night to wallop the host Butler quintet, 57-39.

B. Mickley parted the net for 17 for the winners while Bob Brokaw slipped in 16 for Butler. Danville also won the reserve game, 25-24 by staving off a last quarter Butler rally.

Louis Files Suit For Non-Payment

CHICAGO—(INS)—A suit for non-payment of guarantees for his British Isles tour last spring has been filed by world's heavyweight champion Joe Louis against Francis Price, English promoter.

Louis' manager, Marshall Miles, said last night that he understood Price was entering a bankruptcy plea because he was unable to pay the estimated $69,000 still due.

Sent to Hospital

HONOLULU — (AP) — Tough Frankie Fernandez, 146½, Honolulu, last night sent Tommy Bell, 146½, Youngstown, O., to a hospital with possible concussion after knocking him out in the final stanza of their 10-round bout.

Honor Roll Scores Missing From Tuesday's Bowling

Honor roll scores were among the missing last night in the six leagues which fired on the Colony and Richland Recreation lanes.

Nearest approach to the 600 mark was a 193-202-182-577 by Jim Dunn in the Mansfield Tire league. F. Harmon was runnerup with a 150-224-166—540 score. Joe Mitsch had a 228 first game but slipped to 176 and 106 for a 510 total.

★

Don Dancer was not far behind Dunn's mark as he posted a 176-235-164—575 count in the Elks league. H. Selby was second with a 564 while Don Treisch had 561, C. Roby turned in 548 and Gene Funston, 541. Leo Yuncker had a 549 and B. Mabee, 543.

★

Schmid's Tire got back into undisputed possession of the Transportation league lead as it won two of three games while Mansfield Upholstering was being trimmed three times by Commercia. Motor.

★

Lewis Shaffer led Schmid's with 180-202-180—562. Gene Lued y spilled the pins for 183-162-212—550 (the best single game) George Percy had 532, T. Geiger, 525, and Bill Locke, 522.

★

A 183-179-190—552 by P. Brown led the Westinghouse C league. Four other bowlers—P Waldman, 519, E. Hauck, 509, I. Foust, 509, and J. Chapman, 502—went over the 500 mark.

G. Chronister amassed a 467 and R. Metzger a 426 to pace the Westinghouse girls.

★

L. Flenner set the pace in the Richland C league with a 143-198-217—558 count. H. Ebbert was runnerup with 517 while D. Norton had 512. Only sweep of the night was by the Ritz Nite club which, paced by Bob Ballengee's 504, took three in a row from Mansfield Plumbing.

Smith Gets 20 Points to Pace Perrysville

PERRYSVILLE — Perrysville scored its first baseball victory of the season last night as it downed Big Prairie, 56-46, on the local floor.

The game was close all the way with the scoring being identical in every quarter except the third where Perrysville built up its lead.

Perrysville smooth - working Snuffy Smith was the scoring leader with 20 points while big Herb Brown knocked in 19 and controlled most of the rebounds.

Admits Hurling Coed Into Gully; Denies Rape, Murder

Police Link Boulder Man To Slaying

Murder Charge To Be Filed

BOULDER, Colo.—(U.P.)—Joseph S. Walker, 31, was expected to be charged today with the murder of pretty Theresa Foster, 18-year-old Colorado university student.

Walker admitted last night that he threw Miss Foster's body into a ravine but claimed that a "chubby man, about 21 to 25" years old raped and killed her.

He dictated his admission to District Attorney Hatfield Chilson, Sheriff Arthur Everson and two Denver detectives in the Boulder county jail last night. Before that, Chilson had said "we already have enough evidence to warrant a charge of murder" against Walker.

Walker claimed that he picked up the girl and the "chubby" stranger on the main street here.

He said he drove the couple to Lee's Hill road, a lover's lane on the outskirts of Boulder. Police say it was there the girl was killed.

Walker said he and the stranger argued as to who should drive Walker's car. The man, he said, grabbed a .45-caliber pistol from the glove compartment and struck him.

"When I awoke, there was blood all over me and my bones were stiff," Walker said. "The man was gone. Part of the girl's body was dangling from the trunk of the car. She was half-naked. There was blood all over the car. I was scared silly."

Walker said he drove to Coal Creek canyon, 12 miles south of here, and heaved the body into the creek, tossing her clothing beside the body.

Her books and his broken gun, parts of which were found at the slaying scene, were "scattered along the road," he said. He told Chilson he hid his bloody, army-type parka coat under a culvert, then went home and told his wife he had been in a fight.

His attractive wife, Eleanor, 26, a Boulder bookkeeper, told police Sunday that "I believe my husband killed that girl."

His statement came less than 12 hours after the missing gun was found five miles from where the girl's body was discovered.

Crashes Claim 3

TIFFIN —(AP)— Three persons died yesterday in two grade crossing accidents. Andrew Peifer, 45, and William Myers, 22, both of Monroeville, were killed near Attica when they drove a truck into the path of a Pennsylvania passenger train. Gerald M. Schoen, 16, was killed by a train at Flat Rock as he returned home from a night job in Bellevue.

PVT. D. M. O'CONNELL, JR.

COULTER — Requim mass will be conducted at 10 a. m. Saturday in St. Peter's Catholic church in Loudonville by Father Joseph A. Lembach for Pvt. Dennis M. O'Connell jr., 19, who was killed in action in Italy on Feb. 16, 1944.

His body was returned aboard the Army Transport Lawrence Victory from Carsetto, Italy. He entered service on Jan. 20, 1942 and was sent overseas on May 30, 1942 with Company M, 179th Infantry. He was awarded the Purple Heart for military merit.

A Lucas high school graduate in the class of 1942, Pvt. O'Connell is survived by his father and stepmother, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis M. O'Connell sr. of here; three sisters, Mrs. Eugene Matuch of Mansfield and Euella and Patricia O'Connell at home and a brother, Patrick, at home. His mother preceded him in death on Oct. 5, 1942. He was a member of St. Peter's church.

Graveside military rites will be conducted in St. Peter's Catholic cemetery by the Loudonville post of the American Legion. The body will be at the Byerly funeral home in Lucas after 6 p. m. tomorrow.

War Veteran Dies In Home

Thomas Ferguson, 58, died unexpectedly at his home, 394 Newman street, at 12:05 a. m. today.

Born in Mansfield, Nov. 23, 1890, Mr. Ferguson lived here his entire life. He was a member of the First Methodist church.

Mr. Ferguson was a veteran of World War 1, having served in Battery A, 324th Field artillery.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Fred Ammeter and one brother, James Ferguson, both of Mansfield.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 3:30 p. m. at the Wappner funeral home, with Rev. C. W. Stoneburner in charge. Military services at the grave in Mansfield cemetery will be conducted by the Earl D. McVey post, American Legion.

Pallbearers will be members of the Legion post.

'Y' Staffs Draft Plans

Plans to organize two groups of young people to engage in programs of social activities and educational outings were discussed at a joint staff meeting of the YMCA and the YWCA yesterday afternoon at the YWCA building.

One group would consist of young men and women over high school age; the other of young married couples. They would be co-sponsored by both Y's.

The meeting was the first to be held in which staff members from both organizations participated. It was part of the recently-started "double Y" program, an effort to engage in more functions for young men and young women.

Miss Agnes Kessler, YWCA executive secretary, was chairman of the meeting.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Television on the Farm

Buck Childs' home has become mighty popular ever since he got that television set—one of the few sets in our town, outside of Andy's Garden Tavern.

Not only do the kids stay home nights, but the neighbors drop in to see whatever's being telecast. And Buck and the missus always make them welcome, with a mellow glass of beer or ale (with cider and cookies for the youngsters).

While I guess everyone admits that television still has far to go, it's not hard to see that it will some day be as much a part of American home and farm life as the temperate glass of beer that Buck serves, and the hospitality that goes with it.

And from where I sit, anything that adds to gracious living in America—brings folks together for temperate, quiet entertainment—is a boon to this home-loving land of ours. (We're thinking of buying a television set ourselves!)

City Court Step Taken In Ashland

Would Serve Eight Townships

ASHLAND—Initial step toward establishing a municipal court here to replace the present police court, was completed yesterday when the Ashland County Bar association members gave final approval to a bill drawn up by an association committee.

Next step will be submitting the bill to the Ohio legislature through the Ashland county representative, Frank McClure, for legislative approval.

During a three-hour meeting yesterday, bar association members added some amendments to the bill. The bill provides for inclusion of eight Ashland county townships in the jurisdiction of the municipal court, with each township to contribute toward the maintenance of the court.

By including the townships, the municipal court could serve these townships which have no justices of the peace before which to bring small claims, civil and criminal matters.

Drafting of the bill got under way during the past summer when a committee to draft the bill was appointed by Howard S. Lutz, retiring president of the association.

The proposed court would have jurisdiction in cases up to $300. A salary of $2,500 is provided in the bill for the municipal judge who would be elected by voters in the city and participating townships.

Churches In Area Schedule Evening, Holiday Services

Special Thanksgiving programs are scheduled tonight and tomorrow in Mansfield area churches.

Union services start at 7:30 p. m. in the United church in North Fairfield with the guest speaker being Rev. James Lee, of Oberlin. Rev Joseph Wilcox and Rev. Edmund B. Keller, local pastors, will assist with the service.

In Crestline the First Methdist and First Presbyterian churches held special services Sunday. Rev. S. A. Metzger will preach on "Let Us Give Thanks" at 7:30 p. m. today in First English Lutheran church. The choir will offer a special anthem.

Rev. R. L. Van Scoy speaks on "Come Ye Thankful People. Come" in Crestline's Trinity Evangelical church at 7:30 p. m. today. At 10:50 a. m. tomorriw Rev. W. L. Margard will be in charge of services in Calvary Reformed church.

In Leesville, Rev. C. J. Ludwick will be in charge of an 8 p. m. service today at the Evangelical Lutheran church. Special masses will be given tomorrow by Rev. F. A. Slattery in Crestline's St. Joseph Catholic church.

At North Fairfield's Sunday observance a church family dinner followed the morning service conducted by Rev. Wilcox while the afternoon service had Rev. George Crenshaw, former pastor, as guest speaker. The Crenshaw family later were guests at the Fred Leak home.

The annual Thanksgiving assembly, sponsored by the Hi-Y club, highlighted observances in Galion this week. It was presented yesterday and other programs are slated today in junior high and elementary schools. Several Galion churches have services billed for tonight and tomorrow. Public offices and most business places will close tonight and reopen Monday.

Rev. Jay N. Booth, pastor of First Christian church, speaks at the 7:30 p. m. union services in the First Church of the Brethren today in Ashland. It is sponsored by the Ashland Ministerial association.

Pastor Talks To Kiwanis

GALION — Rev. R. R. Elliker, pastor of First Reformed church, and lieutenant-governor of Division 7 of the Ohio Kiwanis, addressed the Galion Kiwanis club at its luncheon-meeting yesterday at Hotel Talbott.

He combined his annual Thanksgiving message to the club with his official visit talk as lieutenant - governor. His theme, "The Grateful Spirit," brought an inspiring message to the club.

"Kiwanis is a service organization, and the motto of the international club, 'We Build,' expresses our service to our fellow men," the minister told his audience.

Visitors present for the meeting were Dr. Ernest Hesser of Crestline, and Carl Leslie, past-president of the Crestline Kiwanis club.

Galion P-TA Gets Ohio Meeting Report

GALION—A report of the P-TA board meeting, which was held in Columbus, was given by Mrs. John Mortland last night when she presided at the monthly meeting of the local city P-TA council. The session was held at Senior high school.

The council will hold no meeting in December, but set the next regular session for the fourth Tuesday in January.

Rail Damage Suit Settled In Bucyrus

$100,600 Case Terms Unknown

BUCYRUS—The New York Central Railroad company has settled the $100,600 damage suit brought against it by Lottie Stevens, as administratrix of the estates of her two sons, Walter G. and Robert W., who were killed in a train-auto collision in May, 1946.

Terms of the settlement were not announced and the action has been dismissed at the costs of the railroad company, Joe Royer, Crawford county common pleas court clerk, reported today.

The petition was filed in two separate complaints. Mrs. Stevens had asked $50,600 damages for the death of Robert and $50,000 for Walter's death.

The two men were killed when their automobile collided with a Big Four passenger train at a double crossing one mile south of Crestline.

How young should people Marry?

The Joslins married on little else than a firm faith that they could make a future for themselves.

When the Frank R. Joslins of Bedford, Massachusetts, were married twenty years ago, he had just started his first job; Mrs Joslin, too, was just out of college. But at the age of 21 both were sure that whatever came they could take it right in their stride.

During depression years Frank had to take what jobs he could find to support his wife and baby. But tough as things were, the young Joslins never lost courage, nor sight of their goals!

Frank today is assistant construction manager with a public utility company. He recently completed a course in advanced management at the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration.

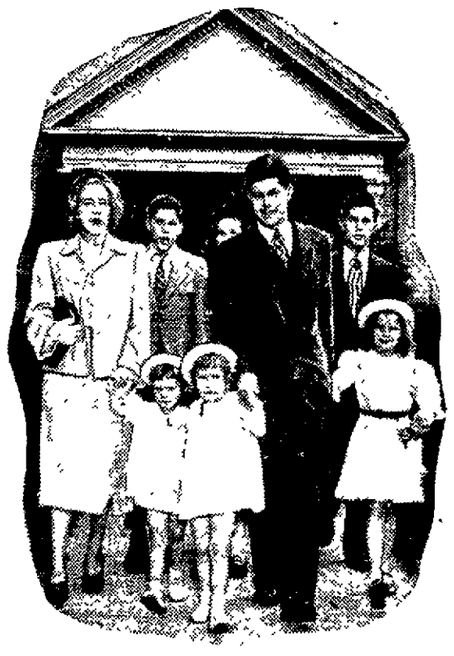
Sons Dick, 18, and Bob, 14, follow parents' example, make their own way. After-school jobs provide money for camp. Dick will help finance college by summer work. They painted the house!

At school last year, Dick was on the track squad and was president of the student assembly committee Today he has his heart set on taking a course in business administration at Dartmouth College.

The older girls help care for twins Judy and Joanne, 3½. No money spent for "sitters" at the Joslins! Nancy is 16, Patricia, 8. With brothers, they ran house when mother was ill.

The 150-year-old New England homestead the Joslins bought in 1947 is being restored by the family all on their own.

Mr. Joslin does the big jobs over the weekends. The children pitch in after school. Nancy's special project is restoring the hand-painted murals in one of the bedrooms.

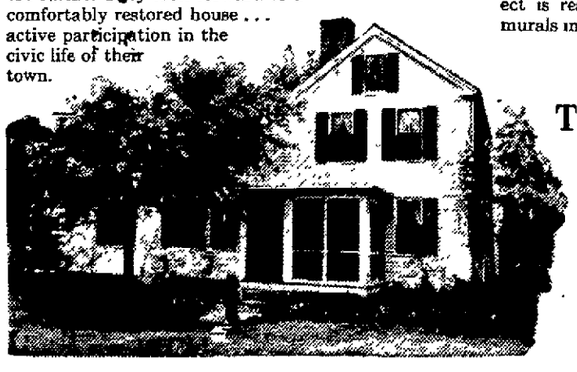


Today the six Joslin children are well on the way to being the kind of citizens this country needs. Church is part of their well-rounded life. Nancy sings in the choir; Dick is chaplain of a church-connected youth group.

By their way of taking both the tough spots and the smooth spots life hands out to everyone, the Joslins show that they were right to marry as young as they did.

Part of the family security Mr. Joslin has provided comes from the program of life insurance he planned with the help of his life insurance agent. Now he's planning to build larger retirement income when he can.

In spite of the uncertainties everyone faces today, the Joslins are planning for the future. They look forward to a comfortably restored house . . . active participation in the civic life of their town.



THE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES AND THEIR AGENTS

BRING YOU THIS STORY BECAUSE... families like the Joslins show us one way that happiness is earned! You, yourself, probably know a family, right in your own town, that is getting ahead in the same typically American way. Such families prove to all of us that we can solve our own problems by our own efforts.... Their example shows, too, why it is so important for us to hold to our rights to think for ourselves, to work at what we like, to live as we choose. For what this country amounts to depends upon what happens to its homes!

Electoral College Again Under Fire

STUDY being given to close margins by which President Truman carried several states in the recent election is causing renewal of discussion of weakness of the electoral college system of choosing a president.

It is pointed out that a shift from Truman to Dewey of about 16,500 votes in California, 19,000 in Illinois and 3,500 in Ohio, with the vote elsewhere unchanged, would have brought about the election of Dewey, with Truman holding a popular plurality of more than two million votes. A shift of only 16,350 votes, so distributed as to give Arizona, Idaho, Nevada, Ohio and Wyoming to Dewey instead of to Truman, would have thrown the election into the House of Representatives, although Truman would have been left with a popular plurality of nearly 2,100,000.

It should be clear from these figures that under the electoral college system, as it now functions, the people do not really elect the President, except by chance.

Auto Industry Frowns On Chiselers

REVELATIONS of skulduggery in connection with automobile sales in Washington, D. C., as publicized in reports of testimony before a House investigating committee, have been followed rather quickly by announcements that several manufacturers have cancelled dealer franchises, because of "improper sales methods."

The gyp game, as explained to congressional investigators, took on a variety of angles, running all the way from "tips" up to $500 for quick delivery, to less than fair trade-in allowance for old cars or loading up of new cars with unwanted accessories.

Such racketeering, it appears, was not peculiar to Washington, as other large cities have reported many instances of new cars appearing on used car lots at prices far above those listed by the manufacturers, and "tips" for hurry-up delivery appear to have become regarded as entirely legitimate.

A great advantage in bringing this subject into the open, as is now being done in Washington, is that the suspicion aroused by rumors of such crookedness has tended to reflect unfairly on conscientious and trustworthy dealers and salesmen who have been honestly trying to serve their customers in a fair way, in the matter of priority of orders. Weeding out of those who have taken advantage of shortages to indulge in questionable selling practices will result in restoring the confidence of prospective buyers who will recognize that this is another instance in which the misconduct of a few casts an unjust suspicion on the many dealers and salesmen whose methods are above reproach.

'No Other Star' Eagerly Awaited

MINGLED rather prominently with other things being discussed in Mansfield this week is the frequently mentioned subject of that new book by Jane Williams — "No Other Star" — which is to go on sale Saturday at book stores here and elsewhere.

It seems a safe guess that whatever sales volume this book may attain in a national way, it will immediately attain "best seller" status in the local field — and also that it will quickly become a very generally discussed book among Mansfield readers.

That phase of it makes it advisable for all adults hereabouts to read "No Other Star" as soon as possible, so as to be ready to take part in the conversation that it is bound to inspire.

One sure thing is that, as Louie Bromfield favorably comments: "Once you start it, you'll find it difficult to put down until the last page has been turned." There's a realism about the characters portrayed, a vividness about the scenes described, and an intensity about events leading up to a tremendous climax, that will impress all readers that here is an example of the "good writing" which gained widespread recognition for Jane Williams during the years she devoted to newspaper work.

And please, as you read the book, start at the beginning and read it chapter by chapter, without at any time turning to the end to see "how it comes out" — and, in talking about the book with others who haven't yet read it, don't reveal the concluding portions—let them wonder what will happen at the finish.

Delinquency That Reaches Killer Stage

THE FIRST comprehensive study of juvenile killers is being made in Columbus, by the state bureau of juvenile research. One hundred boys and girls, who killed or attempted to kill, are the subjects. Purpose of the study is to find out how these boys and girls differ from other children, and from other delinquents, to try to learn whether there is a behavior pattern which might betray a potential killer before the deed.

The results so far might seem disappointing to the layman. Only fifteen of the hundred have been found to have symptoms which might have been recognized in advance; these were insane or psychopathic. Otherwise nothing has been found to distinguish the killers. They and their home lives were very much like those of other delinquents.

A third of the parents of these juvenile killers were opposed to having their children punished for their acts. Less than half of the parents co-operated in efforts to rehabilitate the children. These facts are striking, but not different from the usual pattern in delinquency.

While this study may not turn up any information which would help specifically to prevent the more serious juvenile offenses, it may help to point out that in general most delinquency could be prevented. Home and neighborhood surroundings, rather than anything inherent in the child's make-up, are usually the cause.

Foreign Policy Secrecy

By THOMAS L. STOKES

WASHINGTON — The incoming 81st Congress has, as we now know, plenty of mandates on domestic policy.

It has none whatever on foreign policy. That was because foreign policy, under the so-called bipartisan arrangement or "gentleman's agreement," was kept a top secret between candidates of our two major parties except for vague talk about preserving peace and "standing firm" against Russion aggression.

It was, indeed, confined to "high level platitudes", to borrow from President Truman a phrase that he used, seemingly with telling effect, about Governor Dewey's campaign but which could as well be applied to his own as far as foreign policy goes.

The danger of this gentlemanly removal of foreign policy from all but the vaguest discussion was stressed here during the campaign. What was emphasized then was the threat to basic policies adopted by Congress, such as the European recovery program and the reciprocal trade program, by failure to point to the records of members of the 80th and previous congresses who had fought bitterly these and other measures of international cooperation.

Luckily, with an uncanny intuition for which none of the experts or pollsters gave the people credit, the voters did some nice pin-point bombing on some of the more obvious characters, which was all to the good.

The voters acted presumably on the basis of the long known and publicized record of certain gentlemen.

But new issues in the foreign field were in the making even while the campaign was going on, particularly in Germany and China, and nothing was said about the approach to these except the Republicans thought China ought to have lots more money.

About all the election proved in the field of foreign affairs is that the public wants none of Henry Wallace's prescription. He was completely discredited.

* * *

What "Foreign Policy"?

THERE seems to be here and there a growing awareness of the danger of secrecy and lack of public discussion of our foreign policy which is, after all, of direct and intimate concern to every citizen.

A voice is raised in the middle of the country. Robert D. Lusk, in an editorial in his newspaper "The Huronite and the Daily Plainsman" of Huron, S. Dak., said "The campaign of 1948 was unprecedented in regard to the lack of debate on the most vital issue of the day — the foreign policy of the United States."

He said further that the 47,000,000 persons who voted for President Truman and Governor Dewey neither endorsed nor disapproved present foreign policy, adding "They simply were not given a chance to vote upon it." He concluded:

"This newspaper would raise herewith the serious question for belated debate as to whether such disfranchisement is not only unwise, but actually dangerous to our democracy."

It is a good question for debate, even through the 1948 campaign is over. There will be another in the congressional elections two years hence.

But there is something that can be done now, and that is for the new Congress to explore foreign policy carefully, as representatives of the voters who got no chance to pass on it themselves. It will have the opportunity in consideration of further appropriations to implement our policy.

Pull Pieces Together

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — Let me ask you a couple of questions.

Were you grown up and voting back in 1920 when Warren G. Harding was elected President? Or have you come of age since then?

Anyway, do you remember much about what happened in the important years between 1920 and 1940?

Time and a million events have left a foggy jumble in the minds of a lot of people—a sense of almost lost years.

If you're one of those you could, without much trouble, pull the jumbled pieces together and get a clear picture.

You could do it by reading just a few books which are suggested in this story. Before looking at them, you may ask: Why start at 1920 and stop at 1940? Because—

That was a period of getting over a war, of boom times and terrible bust, of trying to get back on our feet with the New Deal, and then getting ready for another war.

The period of 1940 and 1945 was really an upside down war period. The years from 1945 to 1948 have been a steady struggle between President Truman and Congress.

But now, although we're still trying to get over the second war, we're in another boom time and may be headed for another bust and another war.

But at least, with the new Democratic Congress, we'll be entering a period that may be a "new" New Deal or a continuation of the old New Deal.

* * *

They Paved the Way.

WHAT happens in these next four years will have its roots in the 20 years between 1920 and 1940, for they laid the groundwork for what lies ahead.

The easiest way I know of getting into those 20 years is by reading Frederick Lewis Allen's "Only Yesterday"—a history of the 1920s—and his "Since Yesterday"—a history of the 1930s.

They're delightful books, fast and easy to read. He weaves music, literature and styles in with the politics, people and events of the two decades.

But some people may want to use Allen's books as a starting point and look for further reading to find out not only what happened but why.

Here are the two latest books on the 20-year period: Karl Schriftgiesser's "This was Normalcy," covering the 1920s, and Dixon Wecter's "The Age of the Great Depression," which starts with the 1929 crash and goes to 1940.

You may not like either of those two books but they're the latest, and in the back they have long lists of other books and sources for further readings covering those 20 years.

There's one other book, very recent, which cuts sharply but briefly across the 1920-1940 period. This is Richard Hofstadter's "The American Political Tradition."

Although his book, a collection of critical portraits, starts with the founding fathers, Hofstadter has two cutting chapters on Herbert Hoover and Franklin D. Roosevelt. And his book, too, has a long list of other reading.

LIFE'S LIKE THAT

As Others See It

This Is Different.

A Cincinnati driver has admitted having drunk a pint of whisky and six glasses of beer before his car collided with another machine. This is believed to be the first time in history that a driver in such circumstances had more than two beers by his own confession.—Kansas City Star.

Dave Boone Says:

GENERAL Omar Bradley said something a few days ago that I wish had made the headlines and even the billboards: "We have too many men of science and too few of God," he declared. "We have grasped the mystery of the atom and neglected the Sermon on the Mount."

* * *

And he went on, "Man is stumbling blindly through a spiritual darkness while toying with the precious secrets of life and death. We know more about killing than about living, more about war than peace."

Those are in my opinion the best two paragraphs composed by any American all year. They rate a bigger hand than they got.

* * *

I wish we could put important words like those into huge electric signs the way we put into lights boosts for bubble gum, beer, hair oil and tooth paste.

Communists Plan Taking Over Germany

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — The Berlin grapevine reports that last week Kurt Fischer, head of the German police in the Russian zone, called a highly secret meeting of his top communist aides to give orders as to what the Russians expected.

Fischer said that the Kremlin had assigned two main tasks to the German communists:

1. Keep the Communist party in power in eastern Germany and prevent democratic uprisings or riots.

2. Prepare for the day when the Allies pull out of Germany and permit communist-trained German police to seize complete control of the entire country.

Fischer also informed his colleagues that the Russians had instructed him to build the German police force up to 400,000 men.

* * *

Congressional Names.

PUN-MAKERS will have some old and some new names to conjure with next January when the roll is called in the new House of Representatives.

The Republicans lost a Foote in Connecticut, but kept a Hand in New Jersey . . . Democrats Rains (Alabama) and Brooks (Louisiana) and Dixiecrat Rivers (South Carolina) will be joined by a Flood—Democratis newcomer from Pennsylvania—A Lea (California Democrat) retired, but there's still a Hill (Colorado Republican) and a Lane (Massachusetts Democrat) . . . a Bishop and a Church (Illinois Republicans) and a Priest (Tennessee Democrat) also were re-elected . . . and though the House lost a Harness (Indiana Republican), it kept a Stockman (Oregon Republican) and gained a Steed (Oklahoma Democrat) . . . There will be two Browns (Ohio and Georgia), two Whites (Idaho and California), one Green (Pennsylvania) and a Golden (Kentucky) in the new Congress . . . As might be expected, however, the Smiths will dominate the new Congress. There are four congressmen by that name—one each from Kansas, Ohio, Virginia and Wisconsin.

* * *

Forrestal Feuding.

IF James V. Forrestal is still secretary of national defense next January, Democratic Senators plan to give him an even more intense going over than the Republicans regarding bickering between the Navy and Air Force.

They point out that Congress specifically passed the unification bill to prevent this bickering and that Forrestal, former secretary of the navy, was made the boss of both. Yet now he can't control the admirals who lobbied to put him in the top defense job.

Two secret military conferences at Key West and Newport, R. I., have been held to prevent this bickering and to decide the all-important question of whether Navy planes or Air Force planes shall lead the air assault in case of war.

Nevertheless, the old feud was reopened recently before a secret session of Ferdinand Eberstadt's committee, set up by Herbert Hoover to study military reorganization.

Eberstadt, who was maneuver-defense, let Assistant Secretary of defense, let Assistant Cecretary of the Navy for Air John Nicholas Brown give a long argument on why Navy planes, not Army planes, should head the next war offense—even though this was twice decided before at Key West and Newport.

"We have been asked by your chairman to discuss whether the air force should absorb naval aviation," began Mr. Brown in the secret hearings.

* * *

Disagreement Continues.

THIS was an unusual remark since no one ever made such a recommendation. Eberstadt, a close friend of Forrestal's and a great Navy fan, knew better. Nevertheless he listened eagerly as Brown continued to tell why the Navy was more important than the Air Force.

"In outlining its view on this matter," he said, "the Navy wishes to make it clear that it dislikes being placed in the position of making individuous comparisons with a sister service.

"The desire for some cheap and rapid way to bring an enemy to submission is old, but always fresh because it is so appealing. Certainly I do not think we should exclude the possibility of it. Neither should it be forgotten that there are senior officers of all services who doubt its feasibility. They doubt that bombers can range over thousands of miles of defended Soviet territory to destroy targets of which the exact location is not known.

"Vast ocean distances must be made safe, and surmounted, and footholds won on the far shores. The enemy's air force must be met and diminished over the seas and adjacent shores before that is possible. That is naval warfare, of which the principal striking weapon is naval aviation."

Brown then introduced Vice Adm. A. W. Radford, vice chief of naval operations, who has long spearheadad navy propaganda that the airplane carrier is the best means of dropping the atomic bomb.

Note—When Secretary for Air Symington fired a letter to Eberstadt, protesting against the navy's testimony, his letter leaked out to the press. Angrily, Secretary Forestal announced that he would investigate the leak. But, after checking code numbers on the letter and tracking down who had handled it, the leak was narrowed down to only one possible source: The Navy itself.

What About Hatch Act?

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON — Two former legislators who will not be around when the 81st Congress goes into session still will be largely responsible for some legislation which may develop in an effort to tighten up federal "press agent activities."

The men are Senator Carl Hatch, New Mexico Democrat, who did not run for re-election, and Representative Forest A. Harness, Indiana Republican, who did run but was defeated.

Senator Hatch's part in such possible legislation—proposed by Harness during the late days of the campaign, and now likely to crop up under the sponsorship of a Republican colleague who has returned is somewhat distant and, at this writing, apparently unintentional.

Nevertheless, it is an important part. It hinges around his authorship of the Hatch Act, which forbids federal employes to engage in political activity.

Passed and placed in effect in 1939, and amended in 1940 to include state employes paid from federal funds, the law naturally developed some loopholes in actual practice through the years. Even Senator Hatch, during recent months, conceded that there were points in its general outline which needddd tightening, and perhaps alteration.

At the time, however, Hatch was largely replying to suggestions concerning the limitations placed on campaign receipts and expenditures, and it was understood that his remarks referred generally to that section of the law.

Harness' idea was something quite different.

* * *

An Indefinite Line.

AS CHAIRMAN of the House sub-committee on publicity and propaganda, the Hoosier did a lot of digging into what he termed "the use of government agency public relations staffs in preparing campaign vituperation . . ."

He said his committee had gathered evidence proving that many such employes were "engaged in the preparation of political speeches and other propaganda in violation of federal law."

The congressman also charged that official government reports were being given political twists and issued with an eye to campaign timing, although he conceded that many times the employes involved were "being used unwittingly."

By that, he indicated he meant that often the public relations employes were assigned piecemeal research and writing jobs which seemed innocent enough of political import in themselves. It was only when such material was developed into "anything from campaign speeches to departmental reports that its real political meaning became apparent," he said.

Nevertheless, he warned that the most flagrant cases would be turned over to the justice department for possible prosecution.

It was then that he suggested amending the Hatch Act to cut down the possibility of such activities in the future.

He admitted that it would be well-nigh impossible to end the speech - researching and ghost-writing practices so prevalent today in all three branches of the government. (Capitol Hill certainly is no exception.)

The catch in that case is that such work presumably is permissible as long as it does not involve political campaigning—but who can say when any politician is campaigning?

Committee members, both Republican and Democrat, express doubt that—under the existing terms of the Hatch Act—it is potent enough to justify prosecution.

But Harness, who feels his defeat was at least partially caused by the very activities he criticized, has not given up on it.

Timely Editorial

Oleo Taxes Still a Challenge.

A move to repeal all federal taxes on oleomargarine lost out in the closing days of the eightieth Congress solely because of some fast legislative footwork by its opponents.

It is to be expected, then, that a tax-lifting effort so close to realization before will be revived in the new Congress. Senator Fulbright of Arkansas, a leading foe of the levy on margarine, has disclosed new plans to that end and is confident they can be made to work out next time.

That removal of the taxes would increase the consumption of margarine by people who prefer butter as a food spread is doubtful. But it is entirely clear that the taxes constitute an unfair penalty on consumers who cannot afford butter.

Also, they are a unique misuse of the taxing powers and cannot be justified on the outmoded grounds of protecting purchasers against having oleomargarine palmed off on them as butter.—Kansas City Star.

Minerals In the Soil

By CALVIN A. BYERS

THE LONGER land is cropped, the less nutriment it has left. That idea has been carefully tested by research scientists who have been comparing vegetables grown in a belt of states reaching from the Atlantic coast to the Rockies.

In a report before the 1948 meeting of the Soil Science Society of Colorado, Dr. Firman Bear of Rutgers University presented some interesting findings. Specimens of tomatoes, snap beans, lettuce, cabbage, etc., were gathered from commercial fields in a belt of states—including Georgia, South Carolina, Virginia, Maryland, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Colorado.

Invariably, the ones grown farthest west contained more available mineral elements. Soil deficiency diseases of plants, animals and human beings are less prevalent in the West. Wheat grown on virgin soil just brought under irrigation was long ago found to contain nearly twice as much calcium as is found in most wheat.

Sometimes the minerals are in the soil but are not available to the plant.

The importance of the so-called 'trace elements' such as copper, boron, cobalt, iron, manganese, molybdenum and zinc, has too often been unreckoned with. A few parts in a million are all it takes of some of these to make the difference between disease and health.

Some scientists advocate spraying the trace elements on the plants, some contend that they can only be absorbed through the roots. Pineapples have long been sprayed with iron, in Hawaii—citrus fruits in parts of Florida are sprayed with zinc.

Some students of the matter argue that men could just as well take their trace elements in capsules or mineral supplements as has been successful with farm livestock. Others say that only by eating food grown on whole soil can a man become the person he ought to be. Then there are the "organic" gardeners, who insist that lots of organic matter will ferment the soil, stir up trace elements and release them better than can be done in any other way.

The whole study is just a beginning. Farming is something nobody knows much about, really. The ones who know most about it agree on that. But everyone who eats, regardless of his race, creed, or nationality should be concerned about the best use of our soil resources.
